The best horse-and-rider pairs to gather at Jiva Hill Stables

From August 27 to 31, 2025, the FEI Dressage European Championship will take place at the stunning facilities of Jiva Hill Stables in Crozet (Ain), just 15 minutes from Geneva International Airport (SUI). This marks the first time France hosts the event, and the organisers are fully committed to making it a resounding success. Who will succeed reigning European champion Jessica Von Bredow-Werndl of Germany and defending team champions Great Britain? The answer will be revealed this August!

Multiple Olympic, World, and European medalist Isabell Werth of Germany met with great success at Jiva Hill Stables last year during the CDI 5*. Will she feel as comfortable at the upcoming FEI Dressage European Championship? “It feels like a holiday here! The facilities are fantastic, and I'm sure that soon all dressage riders will want to come to Jiva Hill Stables!” Werth stated after claiming victory in both the Grand Prix and Grand Prix Special. The organising team, led by Event President Etienne Zeller and Director Cassandre Allainguillaume, is working tirelessly to bring this event to life in record time, ensuring the highest standards for athletes, horses, and spectators alike.

Three titles up for grabs

Approximately 90 of Europe's top horse-and-rider pairs from 23 nations will compete for victory. After the veterinary check on Tuesday, August 26, the event begins on Wednesday, August 27, with the Grand Prix, leading to the team title being awarded the following day. On Friday, August 29, riders qualifying for the Grand Prix Special will battle for individual honours, while the event will conclude in a spectacular fashion on Sunday August 31, with the Freestyle Grand Prix, set to music. Saturday will consist in a rest day, featuring a special equestrian performance to delight audiences.

The organising committee, a dedicated team of ten professionals, is committed to delivering an exceptional experience for riders, horses, officials, breeders, owners, media representatives, and the public at large - ensuring that Isabell Werth's glowing praise rings true!
